FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

21st Annual Sarasota Medieval Fair Brings Five Weekends of Jousting, Music, and Merriment This Fall

Dates: November 1–30, Saturdays & Sundays

Location: Mallaranny Farms, Myakka City, FL (near Lakewood Ranch)

MYAKKA CITY, FL (Release Date) – The Sarasota Medieval Fair returns Saturdays and Sundays this November 1-30, transforming Mallaranny Farms in Myakka City into a living medieval village for five weekends of knights, music, and merriment. Visitors will step into history with jousting tournaments, artisan markets, live performances, and family-friendly activities.

Highlights include fan-favorite acts such as Human Combat Chess, the Washing Well Wenches, the New Riders of the Golden Age jousting troupe, and the Knightwings Birds of Prey. Each weekend also offers unique themes, costumed parades, and interactive experiences, ensuring something new for returning guests every weekend, including Viking Invasion Weekend (Nov. 1-2), Heros & Villains Weekend (Nov. 8-9), and Scottish Highlands Weekend (Nov. 15-16).

The festival village transforms for the holidays on the final two festival weekends with Mystical Realms Weekend (Nov. 22-23) and St. Nicholas Celebration Weekend (Nov. 29–30), blending holiday cheer with medieval traditions to kick off the festive season. All weekend themes and entertainment schedules can be found at www.SarasotaMedievalFair.com.

“We’re thrilled to welcome guests back for our 21st season,” said Jeremy Croteau, executive producer of the Sarasota Medieval Fair. “This year’s lineup combines beloved traditions with new experiences that make every weekend an exciting adventure.”

About the Sarasota Medieval Fair

Founded in 2005, the Sarasota Medieval Fair is an annual festival celebrating history, performance, and community on Florida’s Gulf Coast. Held each November, it has become a cultural tradition, bringing thousands of visitors of all ages to our local area. Set in a vibrant outdoor setting, Mallaranny Farms comes alive with jousting, artisan vendors, live music, and immersive entertainment for the whole family.
