Artisan Marketplace Highlights Midseason Weekend at Sarasota Medieval Fair

Dates: November 1–30, Saturdays & Sundays

Location: Mallaranny Farms, Myakka City, FL (near Lakewood Ranch)

MYAKKA CITY, FL (Nov. 11, 2025) – The 21st Annual Sarasota Medieval Fair reaches its midseason mark this weekend, continuing each Saturday and Sunday in November at Mallaranny Farms. As the festive season approaches, fairgoers are invited to explore a distinctive Artisan Marketplace filled with hand-crafted gifts and goods.

“Our artisan line-up this year is one of the strongest we’ve ever had,” said Market Director Stephanie Beardsley. “Popular returning vendors like Beautifully Dark Art, Dredmors Plunder, and Wood Willow & Whatknots are joined by exciting newcomers including Dragon’s Eye Leather, Garlic at the Market, Lady Adia Creations, and more.”

Over 150 craft and food vendors, along with human powered rides and games, will be scattered across the Woods of Mallaranny, many of them local small businesses. The festival Artisan Marketplace also transforms for the holidays during the final two weekends.

Beyond the market, guests can enjoy live performances, medieval games, food, full-contact jousting, and the dramatic “Battle of Halidon Hill” at the human combat chess board. With something for all ages, the fair offers a rich blend of historical charm and modern-day entertainment.

This weekend, 15 and 16 November, the theme is Scottish Highlands, featuring a costume contest and a bagpipe imitation challenge. Each weekend presents a new theme, giving visitors a unique experience every time. For details, visit www.SarasotaMedievalFair.com.

About the Sarasota Medieval Fair

Founded in 2005, the Sarasota Medieval Fair is an annual festival celebrating history, performance, and community on Florida’s Gulf Coast. Held each November, it has become a cultural tradition, bringing thousands of visitors of all ages to our local area. Set in a vibrant outdoor setting, Mallaranny Farms comes alive with jousting, artisan vendors, live music, and immersive entertainment for the whole family.
